ts, mainly in the railway at a function in Balangir. Describing connectivity as a first for progress, Modi said it would boost trade, commerce, tourism, besides helping farmers in taking their produce to cultural markets. Strong activity would also propel industrialisation, which in turn would create enormous opportunities for employment generation, he said.

Several industries, such as cement, paper, aluminum, steel, pig iron, sponge iron, steel pipes, located in and around the area would benefit from the projects, Modi said. The Prime Minister, en route to Odisha, made a stopover in Chhat-tisgarh, where he was welcomed by newly elected chief minister Bhupesh Baghel of the Congress and state BJP leaders at the Raipur airport.

The Congress termed Modi's speech as disappointing and said there was little for Odisha. "Thank you, Prof. Modi, for your history lessons, but we Odias are very well aware of our history & culture. We wanted you to speak on agricultural distress, unemployment, and western Odisha. But you disappointed again," tweeted Niranjan Patnaik, the Congress's Odisha unit chief.

The state's ruling Biju Janata Dal said that under the Modi regime, Odisha had gained little. "Earlier the Central share for the post-matriculation scholarship for SC [Scheduled Caste] and ST [Scheduled Tribe] students was 90%. But now the ministry of social justice and empowerment recently slashed Centre's contribution to 20%. BJP government at the Centre talks big, but gives very little to Odisha," said senior BJD leader and minister Suryo Patro.

The PM also met the parents of Doordarshan (DD) cameraman Achyutanand Sahu, who was killed by Maoist rebels in Chhat-tisgarh's Dantewada district in October last year, and offered condolences on his visit to Balangir. Modi said Sahu was only performing his duty of presenting to the world a democratic picture of the country through Doordarshan. He also said that sacrifices such as his had only strengthened India's resolve to end the cycle of violence.

EARLIER, THE PRIME MINISTER LAUNCHED A SLEW OF PROJECTS WORTH ₹1,550 CRORE IN ODISHA AND SAID THAT THE CENTRE WAS STRIVING FOR THE DEVELOPMENT OF EASTERN INDIA
